Global Executive Co-Operative Database

The Global Executive Co-Operative Database was formed to offer mailers a sizeable, multinational database of top executives who are active subscribers to leading English language publications; Briefings Publishing, Foreign Affairs, Harvard Business School Publishing Newsletters, international Herald Tribune, Soundview Executives Summaries, Technology Review, Wired Magazine.

This unduplicated masterfile contains senior business executives and international business leaders from around the globe and is sourced from some of the most well respect companies of business management and executive information.

Approximately 60% of the file is male and 13% is female.

This file is highly recommended for publishers, financial offers, conferences, seminars, executive education, travel offers and upmarket merchandise.
